An Interesting Service.

Eld. Carey Morgan, of Richmond, Va., was in the city Wednesday night and was prevailed upon to give a short talk at the regular prayer meeting service at the Christian Church. Quite a large audience was present to hear him. Although Mr. Morgan insisted that he would not deliver a sermon, but it should only be a short talk. However, it was given in such an earnest, strong style, that the entire audience was so pleased that they insisted on Mr. Morgan's remaining over Sunday. This he has consented to do, and will fill the pulpit Sunday morning and evening. This will be an opportunity to hear an exceptionally good speaker that no one should miss.

CUT FLOWERS.—Will furnish you anything you want in choice cut flowers. (1t) W. M. GOODLOE.

Serious Conflagration.

North Middletown was visited by one of the most serious fires in its history on Tuesday morning, about 12:30 o'clock. The fire started in the two-story frame building occupied by L. E. Talbott as a store, and spread rapidly, and it looked as if the entire village would be destroyed. The Paris Fire Department was called on, but before they could reach that place the fire had about spent itself.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is generally believed that it was of incendiary origin.

Following is a list of the property destroyed:

In all, eight buildings—three stores, four residences and the Methodist Church, were destroyed. The losses sustained are as follows:

Davis & Mitchell, residence, store room and stock of groceries, etc.; loss, $4,000; insurance, $1,900.

Mrs. Gaitskill, residence and store room; no insurance.

Lee Talbott, stock of dry goods and notions; no insurance.

Woodard's residence and store room; no insurance.

Woodard's stock of goods; loss, $2,000; insurance, $1,500.

Charles Gilkey's residence; no insurance.

Mrs. George Moore, residence; no insurance.

Methodist Church; no insurance.

"Daddy" Cline, a well-known character about North Middletown, who was recently adjudged of unsound mind and will be taken to the Lexington asylum, has been predicting for two weeks that the town would burn up.

AN ERROR.—The Lexington Herald was in error in stating that Rev. Howard Cree preached here Wednesday night and also in stating that he had been called here to fill the pulpit made vacant by the resignation of Rev. Darsie. Rev. Cree did not preach here Wednesday and there has been no call extended to any preacher up to the present time.

J. W. Lancaster's first combination sale on Wednesday was one of the most successful ever held in Paris. Eight pieces of property brought $16,875. The time consumed in selling this property was 3½ hours, an average of about 20 minutes to the piece, which is a compliment to Auctioneer Forsyth. The following is a list of property sold:

DEATHS.

—At her home in this city yesterday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock, Mrs. Duncan Taylor, aged 21 years.

The deceased was Miss Bessie Bingham, formerly of Richmond, and a sister of Mrs. Lyt. Purnell, who died only a few weeks since. About two weeks ago she contracted typhoid fever, and although everything that medical science could suggest was done for her it was of no avail. Of a very quiet and pleasant disposition, she was universally loved by every one who knew her, and her husband and family have the sincere sympathy of this entire community. A sad coincidence in connection with her death is that it fell on her twenty-first birthday.

The funeral services will be held to-morrow afternoon at the residence at two o'clock. Services by Elder Taylor Sharrard. Pall-bearers: Messrs. Duncan Bell, Jas. Chambers, Chas. McMillan, Wm. L. Clark, Robt. Frank and Clarence Thomas.

The funeral of Mr. Junius Brutus Clay was held at the residence Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. J. S. Sweeney. A very large number of relatives and friends were present to pay their last respects to the unfortunate young man whose untimely death shocked the entire community Monday. The remains were interred in the Paris cemetery. The floral tributes were many and very handsome.

The pall-bearers were: S. Brooks Clay, E. F. Clay, Jr., Sam Clay, T. H. Clay, Jr., J. Frank Clay, W. A. Bacon, Dr. Win. K. Kneely and E. H. Owings.

—Mr. Clyde McCarty, of Chicago, died Tuesday in that city. Mr. McCarty was a brother of R. K. McCarty, one of this city, who was at the bedside of his brother when the end came.
